Civil Litigation Refresher 2019

Civil litigators know it's always a balancing act—to be effective, you need the tools to expertly navigate a file while also managing client expectations. These skills build with time, but only if their foundations are strong. This Law Society of Ontario program takes you through the essentials, from the initial client interview to drafting tips, effective discovery, and preparing for trial. You also hear about the latest updates and information to effectively manage the file and continue to build your practice.
