Technology for Litigators

All litigators must now be adept at mastering new technology to advance client interests. The use of e-filing, document sharing platforms, videoconferencing tools, digital demonstrative aids and other technology is here to stay. You've already learned the basics, now build on that knowledge and discover the tools and hacks you need to take your advocacy to the next level. Reduce your time, effort and stress with this practical toolkit of tech tips and hacks.

Technology for Litigators is your guide to making the most of available technology in litigation. Our lineup of tech-savvy judges and practitioners will discuss and demonstrate how to use technology to be a more efficient and persuasive advocate. You will hear technology tips and best practices to set yourself up for success throughout the life of a file.
